

WILDFIRE WORKSHOP

- Planning for wildfire at the edge of development -

IS YOUR COMMUNITY PREPARED?

WHO should attend?

Whether you're a homeowner, city planner, business owner, rancher, county commissioner, public works engineer, city police or fire, this workshop is for you.

Wildfire has no boundaries, the season is longer and fires are bigger. With these changes the importance for interdisciplinary planning for wildfire at the edges of development is growing. It will take all of us to make sure our communities are prepared to respond to a wildfire for best possible outcomes.

FRIDAY, MARCH 15th 10AM – 2PM

Bell Building 2nd floor
215 D Street, Lewiston, Idaho 83501

LUNCH PROVIDED - RSVP by Wednesday, March 13 so we have enough food

Program: You'll hear from experts in this field who will share their experience and talk about the various roles we each have to play to help you understand what YOU can do to make your community more resilient to wildfires. You will also receive resources to take away.
